Dylan Roberts

Two years ago, Dylan Roberts was arrested for assault. Dylan was questioned by the police and his DNA was taken. After 2 hours of questioning, he was released by the police and the charges against him were dropped due to insufficient evidence.

Dylan is angry that his DNA was taken from him by the police and his DNA profile was added to the National DNA Database. He is trying to get his DNA profile removed from the DNA Database and his sample destroyed.

He says, "Every time DNA is found at the scene of crime, my DNA profile is being checked against it as though I am a suspect. I'm not guilty of a crime so why am I being treated like a criminal?"
