

Siân Williams

Siân Williams is a strong supporter of the National DNA Database.

She says "The National DNA Database is a very valuable resource in the investigation of crime.

I believe that as more people are added to the DNA Database, more criminal activities will be solved and more crimes will be prevented.

I do not understand why some people have such strong opposition to the DNA Database. If a person is innocent and does not partake in criminal activities, why are they worried? In my eyes, it's only people with something to hide who worry about having a profile on the DNA Database."
